The harvest
is abundant
but the laborers
are few;
so ask the master of the harvest to send out laborers for
the harvest.

Excerpt from the Lectionary for Masses 2001, 1990, 1979, 1970, CCB.

“The harvest is abundant but the laborers are few,” Jesus laments in today’s Gospel. Indeed, the kingdom of God is full of plenty, but always there are opportunities to build it up in the way we bring God’s love to others. Nourished in the Word and the Eucharist, we go forth to labor for the kingdom. This weekend, we also celebrate the anniversary of our country’s founding, appreciative of what we have while we labor to build a more perfect union. May our labors on behalf of God and country be blessed and fruitful.

False Humility?

It's been months since Easter and it's a long way to Christmas, but there seems to be a lot of rejoicing in today's readings. Isaiah talks about rejoicing with Jerusalem. The Gospel shows the disciples rejoicing when they came back from visiting towns to tell about the Kingdom. St. Paul is happy to be suffering for Christ. So what is the reason for such joy?

The readings make clear that it is not because of what the people of Jerusalem did, or even what miracles Jesus' disciples performed. Isaiah talks about what God will do for the people, how "the LORD's power shall be known to his servants" (Isaiah 66:14). Jesus tells his disciples not to rejoice that they cast out demons; no, they should "rejoice because your names are written in heaven" (Luke 10:20). In other words, we are to rejoice over all the Lord has done for us, not what we have done for him.

Does that sound like false humility? Like someone receiving an Oscar who says, "I wasn't that good--it was all that my director, my producers, my wife and children, and my dog Snoopy did." No, when we do anything for others, we can honestly say that God does the real work. Knowing that frees us from expecting everyone to be happy, everything we do for others to be successful. When our offer of help is rejected, our prayers for a sick friend don't seem to be working, or our good advice is ridiculed, we can be confident that God has something else planned. Instead of being discouraged, we can trust that God's plan is working in ways we just can't see.

Paul has a similar theme in the second reading. You would think he would be proud of all the converts he made or the people he cured. He boasts only about his suffering because that is how he is most like Jesus. He sees all of his accomplishments as the work of God, and he knows that the greatest thing Jesus did was to die for us. All three readings remind us that what changes our lives and changes the world is not how hard we work or how holy we are; what really makes the difference is how much God loves us. That is the real reason to rejoice. Tom Schmidt, Copyright (c) J. S. Paluch Co.

This weekend, we mark another anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. "On the 51st anniversary, Charles Carroll, the only Catholic to have signed the Declaration and the last surviving signer, said, "God grant that this religious liberty may be preserved in these States to the end of time, and that all believing in the religion of Christ may practice the leading principle of charity, the basis of every virtue." Today is a time for choosing how we will keep faith with the great accomplishments of our Catholic forebears as we seek to make our own contributions. If we or someone in your family is called by the Holy Spirit to a religious vocation we should encourage and accept this challenge as we are all endowed by our Creator with life and liberty. " Columbia, "Culture of Life", Oct. 2015, pg. 47.

CURSILLO IN CHRISTIANITY

The Diocese of Belleville Cursillo in Christianity is inviting all men and women eighteen years of age or older to sign up and participate in the upcoming Cursillo weekends in July and August 2022. For the women of the diocese it will be starting the evening of Thursday July 28th through Sunday July 31st. For the men of the diocese it will start on Thursday evening August 18th and run through Sunday August 21st.

Making a Cursillo weekend is a wonderful spiritual experience that goes beyond just the weekend. You will find a closer relationship with God that will permeate and resonate daily in your lives and even make new friends as well.

Cursillo is not just for the laity but also for the clergy and the religious vocations, too. Priests and Deacons who make a Cursillo weekend often come back as spiritual advisors, hoping to share the basic principles of Cursillo with their parishioners and the diocese. People often come out of a weekend with the sentiment "I should have made my Cursillo weekend sooner".

The season of Easter will come to a close but let's celebrate Jesus' gift of that season in Ordinary Time. The gift of our faith given to us by God should always be welcomed, treasured, and nurtured regardless of the time of year. Cursillo helps us in this regard.

If you have any questions about attending the upcoming Cursillo weekends please contact Marie Schimanski or the parish office. Even though the weekends are later in the summer, planning ahead is important!
